Orientation Zoom Meeting

Example time-log from blackboard);

Type	Description of completed work	Challenges and/or Next Steps
Other	Attended Orientation Zoom meeting	Find supervisor, Lock-in project, talk to fellow classmate about possibly doing project together
Research	Updated this timelog's formatting, Looked into third project idea; Wrote up provisional draft detailing vague plan, and reasons why this project; then realized NAMUS already did/does everything I wanted to do, meaning this entire project idea is useless and going out the window. Yay.	THINK OF NEW PROJECT IDEA Attempt to contact friend again, Shoot possible supervisors emails, go to their office hours, Setup a Github now, ahead of time?
Other	Formulated and tossed more project ideas; made github, conversed with friend about ideas inbetween now and last entry	Go to Allan James's office, perhaps they can give some advice on choosing a project; and verify/unverify the ones we came up with? Shoot Prof Mcneil an email
Other	After a day rest, realized I was being dumb; doing the Cryptography project; making it a Windows Exe now though, instead of a website; I don't know how to make exes, so, it'll be... a learning experience, which is the point, no? Also, wrote up a (very) rough draft explaining my thought-process, what the project entails, etc	EMAIL EMAIL EMAIL

Supervisor Email	Sent that email to Mcneil, finally!	Rewrite rough draft into something more presentable by itself; this is a project plan! I want to be able to send-in the document flat, if/when someone asks what my project's about! Apply to the internship oppertuinites; while completing my personal project would be something I would love, regardless, a job would just be smarter Get a head-start on programming for my project!

Other	Job & Internship Applications	continue this later.

Tossed ideas; So far;

1) Newspaper repository website? It's suprisingly hard to find old newspapers online; having an archive data-storage options.

2) Nobel prize winner analytics? Where they're from, their demographics, from which countries do they would just be a website-oddity; nothing unique, or substantial.

3) Consolidate the desperate missing-persons websites between each city, state, and federal site, combine this, both in micro, and macro.

4) Cryptography? Quantum Computing is on the rise, so quantum-resistant encryption is looking to rise etc?) TENTATIVELY rejected; not sure if involved enough to count as a project; infer later.

5) Cell Simulation? DNA code comparer? Chemical reaction sim? Rejected; Since we're using Github I want to make an informative flash game. On DNA; while the entire general (as in, non-distinct) human genome is a version of a single chromosome; much less the 20-ish others, is like, ~240 megabytes. That's... too much for Chemistry; enough said.
